Everything Gets in the Way

Minor White's photographs display great artistry

A wide range of subject matter was displayed at the opening of the Minor White photographic exhibition Friday evening at the Friends of Photography gallery in Carmel.

His talent is backed by a career of educational accomplishments, and war-time experience in the South Pacific.

As an author Mr. White wrote "The Encyclopedia of Photography" and "The Zone System". He edited "The Image" and was editor and publisher of "Aperture".

His teaching career has included the California School of Fine Arts, The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Rochester Institute of Art.

A founder of the Society for Photographic Art, he has also been associated with the George Eastman House and Beaumont Newhall at the Museum of Modern Art.

The show will continue through February 16.

Distinguished citizens win "Good Egg" Awards

Four Carmel Valley citizens received "Good Egg" awards as the highlight of the annual Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.

The awards went to Charles Hitchcock and Marjorie McKiernon. Rex White made the presentations. Lou Allaire was chairman of the committee which made the selections, and his committee included former "Good Egg" award winners.

Dr. Ed. Marcucci was master of ceremonies for the annual event, which was attended by 80 people. Ted Durein, managing editor of the Monterey Herald, was the principal speaker, and provided his usual hilarious dissertation.

NEW OFFICERS

The "Good Egg" awards have been made since 1954, when the Chamber was first organized, and followed a suggestion by Byington Ford, the first president.

The award goes to those who have made an outstanding contribution to Carmel Valley. As many as six and as few as one award has been made each year since.

This years winners were described at the banquet as follows:

CHARLES GANSEL

Charles Gansel is one of those brave men who is a first line of defense against fire and disaster. He has been a member of both the Carmel Valley Fire Department and the First Aid Crew since 1957.

This means that for the past 12 years he has answered both fire and first aid calls on a 24 hour a day schedule. These men deserve constant gratitude for their devotion to duty, without pay and without compensation for time lost from work.

In addition to these jobs, he has found time to act as one of the organizers of the Carmel Valley Little League and has served as player agent, equipment manager and assistant coach for the past 10 years.

He is a charter member of the Carmel Valley Lions Club and has contributed a great deal to their youth program. He also serves as a director of the Carmel Valley Youth Group and Carmel Valley Community Center.

JOE HITCHCOCK

Joe Hitchcock is everyone's favorite Carmel Valleyite. He was born in Carmel Valley in the year 1881, 88 years ago this month. His great grandmother came to the Carmel Mission at the age of 8, two weeks after the death of Father Junipero Serra. His father was a cattleman and ran cattle on 9000 acres of rangeland between Carmel and the Point Pinos lighthouse.

He has had a fascinating career.

He has worked as a cowboy at Pebble Beach before there was a golf course there. He worked for 17 years, in the early days of the automobile industry, at the first Chevrolet factory in Oakland. He drove a horse drawn stage on a daily run between the railroad station in Monterey and the Pine Inn in Carmel.

For many years he wrote a weekly column on early Monterey County History for the Carmel Valley News. In recent years he has worked as a leather craftsman here in Carmel Valley.

He has been a real and wonderful part of Carmel Valley for many years as he rode his horse into the Village every day and always had a smile and cheerful greeting for everyone and always had time for a talk with the Village children. His life has been a full one.

JOHN WOOLFENDEN

John Woolfenden is a very modest man, a man who would be the first to deny it, but who is undoubtedly one of the finest journalists writing today. He is an excellent music critic, reviewing with competence and clarity both jazz and classical music.

His articles on the plant and animal life of this area are a real pleasure to all nature lovers and have contributed much to the conservation of our natural resources. He has,

Village Art Center to offer variety of new workshops

A variety of art and craft workshops are being planned in Carmel Valley Village by the Village Art Center, Glen Mc Whinney, proprietor, announced this week.

He has recruited an impressive array of instructors from the Monterey Peninsula to offer the classes, on the second floor of the Larry Cummings' building, above the Village Art Center store on Del Fino Pl.

Fifteen day and evening classes and six weekly three-hour workshops are to be offered for both adults and younger people, for beginners and advanced students.

"All classes are on a first-come, first-serve basis," Mc Whinney said. "We intend to keep the classes small to emphasize personal instruction."

He added that other classes will be offered, according to demand. He also hopes to offer workshops in the summer with top instructors for professional and more advanced students and also probably classes for younger children.

Classes planned to start soon include batic, copper enamel, block printing, silk screen, Japanese flower arranging, chair caneing, jewelry making; beginning watercolor, oil and acrylic; oil and acrylic for the partially experienced, goauche and tempra, beginning drawing, life drawing, watercolor for young people, general crafts including paper mache, mosaic and resin, the art of breadmaking and personal growth through creative expression.

The last named class will be offered by Dr. Andrew Deskins, a PhD in psychology, who explained that the seminar-discussion course is aimed at helping personal growth through creative expression. "We explore the sources and stumbling blocks of personal growth and expression," he explained.

He added that he has helped many graduate students who encountered mental blocks when approaching their thesis that they weren't creative enough to tackle the job.

"Once they hurdle the belief that they aren't creative, they move forward to accomplishment," he said.

Dr. Deskins earned his master's and doctor's degree from the University of Florida, and has had extensive experience in research and college teaching.

He was an assistant professor of psychology at San Francisco State College, leaving in 1967, and taught before that at Alma College, Michigan, and Washington and Jefferson College, Pa. He has also served as community psychologist for Mendocino State Hospital and clinical psychologist for the California Dept. of Mental Hygiene. He has published in a variety of professional journals.

Other instructors and their classes follow:

Advanced silk screening -- Ruth A. Samko, who earned a B.A. from Immaculate Heart College where she studied under Sister Corita, nationally-noted silk screen artist, who will present silk screen instruction on both fabric, paper and other materials. Miss Samko, who came here from Southern California, was assistant graphic designer for the Los Angeles Museum of Art, where she was active in setting up a department in that field.

Japanese flower arranging -- Sakura Jamison, a certified graduate instructor in the So-get's School of Ikebana flower arranging, Tokyo.

Jewelry making -- three instructors: Glen McWhinney, Virgil Spencer of Pacific Grove, instructor and veteran "rock hound," and Dick Iverson, a commercial jeweler who has a shop on Fisherman's Wharf, Monterey.

General crafts -- Glen Mc Whinney.

Acrylic for the partially experienced -- Marilyn Brown.

Beginning drawing and gouache and tempera -- Dick Crispo.

Watercolor for young people, high school and junior high students, Saturday mornings.

Art of breadmaking -- Herbert McWillis of Carmel Valley's new Golden Hearth Bakery. A different type of bread will be presented each session.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan——659—2468

90TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Between the hours of two and four on December 29 a gracious lady in a royal blue silk suit greeted the dozens of members of her family, friends, and neighbors who attended the reception honoring her ninetieth birthday.

The honored guest was Mrs. J.B. (Verena) Franklin.

Ladies of the Guild of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel decorated Fellowship Hall and prepared the attractive tea tables for the affair planned by Mrs. Franklin's daughters, Mrs. B.L. Heckenliable and Mrs. Carl Naslund. Her pink carnation corsage was a gift from her sons-in-law, Bert and Carl.

Attaining the status of nonagenarian drew representatives of her family from all over the country.

Among them were her sister, Mrs. J.B. Siever of Austin, Minn.; her son, Arthur Franklin who flew down from Sitka, Alaska; a son, Ben Jr., of Auburn, Washington; a grandson and his family, Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Heckenliable and her great grandson, Mark of Fresno; a grandson, Don Jensen of Petaluma; and another grandson and his family from Fresno, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jenson with their sons, Gunnar and Kirsten. Also from out of town were two nephews, Burton Bice of Castro Valley, Clifford Bice and daughter, Becky of Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Charles King of Rogue River, Oregon; Mrs. Fran Hall of Petaluma; and from Monterey, Mrs. Margaret Sprague and Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Lauridsen.

Attending from the Valley were Dr. and Mrs. S.N. Trevino, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Mirani, Mrs. Kathryn Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Tracey Williams, Mrs. Carol Baudoin, Mrs. Thomas McKiernon, Mrs. Mabel Love, Mrs. Larry Busick, Mrs. Leon Amyx, Mrs. Ed Mayfield, Rev. and Mrs. Don Johnson, Mrs. Irene Baldwin, Mrs. Stella Miller, Miss Sara Oppenheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Allaire, (David, Tommy, Davette, and Matt), Mrs. William Wood, Miss Blossom Miller, Miss Elmira Davis, Mrs. Joe Murphy and daughter Marian, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Berta (Maureen, Agnes, Don, Ray, and David), Mrs. Dorothy Griffith, Mike Henderson, Lynn Farney, and Mr. and Mrs. James Cecka.

A native of Owatonna, Minnesota, Mrs. Franklin has been a Valley resident for 15 years and makes her home on Flight Road. Many of the faces at the party were well known to the celebrant since they had been fortunate enough to have had Mrs. Franklin as a baby sitter.

Longevity is not unique in the family of Verena Franklin, whose father lived to be 94, her grandfather to be 98, and her great-grandfather who celebrated 105 years!

The "Phantom Oak Moth" would like to place ninety "old oak leaf clusters" beside the dozen red roses wired from Minnesota by Mrs. Franklin's nephews and their families with our wish for an affectionate and sincere "HAPPY BIRTHDAY!"

OBSERVE TRADITION

Lt. Col (ret.) and Mrs. Kenneth J. Korver of Poppy Road followed a tradition of four years and welcomed the new year as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Yates in Yorba Linda. The Yates family had been Christmas guests of the Korvers and were accompanied by Michelle and Liz Korver when they returned home.

Jane and Ken followed a few days later with their son, Greg, and attended a "Missouri Reunion" in Los Angeles with fifteen couples from their home state. On New Year's eve with their hosts and ten couples from the Yorba Linda area they held their annual watch party followed on New Year's day by breakfast, dinner, and ball games with the same crowd at the home of friends who have an A frame party house in their backyard.

FIREMEN ENTERTAINED

The hour: 2:00 a.m., the menu: chicken, the guests: The Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department.

Thankfully the damage was contained to smoke from the fowl that continued cooking after everyone had gone to bed. A more pleasant memory of the holidays was the Christmas visit in Yuma, Ariz., made by Irene and her sister, Miss Marjorie Ibsen with Irene's daughter and husband and the Lucas twins, Jody and Toni.

FESTIVE HOLIDAY

The popular melody "There's No Place Like Home for the Holidays" would have been an appropriate theme this year for the Cliff Bolgards whose La Rancheria home was filled with six grand-daughters.

Ann, Lynn, Mary, and Joan accompanied their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Withers from their home in Broadview Heights, a suburb of Cleveland, Ohio. From Mountain View came Amy and Nancy accompanied by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bolgard.

The Withers family arrived on the 21st of December and returned to the East on the 4th of January.

In addition to touring the Peninsula, the Withers family visited Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm and the southern part of the state with Mr. Bolgard's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doty. They later visited the points of interest around San Francisco with the Roger Bolgards. They were also feted at an open house in La Rancheria when relatives arrived from San Jose, Los Gatos and many friends from the Valley.

OHIO PEN PALS

How far is it between Carmel Valley and Cincinnati?

If you mean "as the Blue Bird flies" the distance has been shortened considerably by two groups of third grade girls who are exchanging letters with information about their extremely different communities.

The idea of pen pals originated with friends who are leaders of Bluebird Groups (little sisters of Camp Fire Girls), last summer when the Larry Busicks hosted the Bloebaum family from the east.

Harriett, who is the co-leader with Mr. Erasimo Belleci with a Tularcitos Group arranged for the exchange with Fay Bloebaum whose girls attend Mt. Healthy.

Sending news of life in Ohio are Debbie Davidson, Coleen Quinn, Michelle Griffiths, Jennifer Behle, Barbara Coyle, Jennie Petri, Jennie Bloebaum and Patricia Stevens to the Valley girls who are Sharon Hogans, Colleen Feeney, Annette Bottaro, Scarlett Hattan, Laura Busick, Gladys Zarazuga, Angie Howland, and Cynthia Platter.

BACK FROM OKLAHOMA

Neighbors are delighted to see lights in the Boronda Road home of Mrs. Edward Lloyd announcing her return from a six week visit in her home state, Oklahoma.

The flight east two days before Thanksgiving was a memorable first for Faye whose late husband was a retired railroad man so it was only natural that she has relied on traveling via train.

From "headquarters" in Clinton with a cousin where a family reunion attended by thirty members of her family was held, she traveled to Oklahoma City, Stillwater, and Tulsa where she was the guest of other relatives and many longtime friends. With a cousin she spent a pleasant holiday at a resort in the eastern part of the state before her return to the Valley.

EDITORIAL

Wow!

Let's face it, this is the age of self-promotion.

Every big business, every big politician, in fact every big enterprise and almost every community is in the act -- and in BIG.

The public really has little to defend itself from the charming assaults dreamed up by the promoters.

They are artfully disguised.

Call them public relations men, press secretaries, chamber of commerce secretaries, to name a few, they are all out to sell the public on the unqualified charm or good will of their client.

And it's really not all bad.

Frequently the output from such publicity mills is clever rather than devious. and often it is enlightening and entertaining. But the volume becomes staggering, as any newspaper office or radio or TV station can vividly testify.

Most of the output is directed at the so-called 'print media', and a newspaper as small as the Outlook gets on altogether too many mailing lists.

Carmel Valley has a number of enterprises which have wisely and successfully used this modern technique.

And the whole valley has received a great deal of unsolicited publicity, just because it is what it is.

One of the more notable such efforts appears this month in 'San Francisco' Magazine. If the local chamber of commerce had a lavish publicity fund (which it doesn't), it could have hardly done better.

In fact, Carmel Valley comes across as something very like a latter-day Shangri-la.

Hopefully too many people won't take to the freeways with open checkbook in hand to buy a piece of this paradise; the community could ill-afford the inflation, whether it be dollars or people.

Carmel Valley people are not urged to invade the nearest newstand to buy up the limited supply of 'San Francisco'; they don't need to be told about some of their better-known golf courses, tennis ranches or boar ranches, nor see the spectacular, but familiar, scenic photography.

But our friends in other bastions of beauty, not excepting the Bay Area and The City itself, can't help but be impressed.

It sounds a little ridiculous, but there are probably a lot of Carmel Valley households who wish that such impressionable outsiders as the editors of 'San Francisco' would leave us a little more alone.-GMD

The Rhyming Philosopher

REMEDY

A likely young fellow was Thomas McBlade
Who worked very hard for each penny he made;
He fought his way upward by thrift and design
And lavished no money on women or wine.

Because of his frugal and seemly renown,
He came to the notice of people in town,
And thus was elected to office of state
To make proper laws and reduce the tax rate.

But like many others, our pennywise lad,
Who used to preserve every dollar he had,
Forgot all he came for and joined in a bash
Of raising our taxes and squandering cash.

He voted for billions in give-away bills
As if money grew on wild blueberry hills.
He gayly upheld all non-sensical schemes
Regardless and deaf to the taxpayers' screams.

The wonder to me is why people permit
Minority rule, when the answer, to-wit:
Is simply unite, use our powerful vote
To make ourselves heard, and stop being the goat!

No. 296 Harry W. Fletcher

This brought the total for the season to 6.71 inches, compared with 4.89 inches at this time last year.

Temperatures ranged widely.

Warmest day was Tuesday of last week when it was 66 degrees, but it dipped to a low of 27 early Friday morning.

Cal State Airlines starts new direct service to Las Vegas

Cal-State Air Lines, which started serving Monterey on November 11, announced the inauguration of direct service between Monterey and Las Vegas.

Service commenced on Tuesday afternoon with a special guest flight of local dignitaries.

The special guest flight had the following people of local interest on board: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hudson and Mrs. Richard A. Dick, wife of Cal-State's executive vice president.

Flying time, with an intermediate stop at Fresno, averages less than two hours and forty-five minutes.

Action expected on Moss Landing air pollution problem

A considerable protest is being mounted against PG&E over air pollution.

Protesters carrying signs marched in Monterey last week to the power company's office.

And the Carmel Valley Property Owner's Association at its meeting last Thursday night sent a telegram of protest to the Santa Cruz-Monterey Air Pollution Control District.

"We strongly support your demand for action by PG&E," it stated, in eliminating smoke emissions at the Moss Landing Power Plant.

Copies of the wire also went to PG&E and to the California Public Utilities Commission.

The Santa Cruz-Monterey Air Pollution Control District, of which Willard T. Branson of Carmel Valley is chairman, reviewed the problem at a meeting yesterday at Santa Cruz.

It is expected that the district, together with state officials and the public utility, will arrive at an understanding with which all can live.

Kinsolving to speak on sexual revolution

Rev. Lester Kinsolving, Episcopal worker priest, columnist and reporter, will speak on "The Sexual Revolution and the New Morality" Tuesday, Jan. 21, 8 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College lecture-forum.

He will be the third lecturer in the current MPC forum series, "Man and Woman in Search.....of Themselves and Each Other."

Currently a "stringer" for the United Press International, free lance writer and honorary chaplain to Bishop James A. Pike, Rev. Kinsolving has been vicar or rector of Episcopal churches in Washington and California, occasionally stirring up controversies for such pulpit statements as "Hell is a damnable doctrine."

In speaking appearances at some 75 colleges and universities, he has drawn such comments as "the student reaction . . . was marvelous." He has taken public stands on such issues as capital punishment and abortion, and has written a memorable defense of Bishop Pike (Ramparts).

Kinsolving was host and moderator (1967-68) of "The Lester Kinsolving Show on KCBS and a participant in the KQED "Newspaper of the Air." He has completed reportorial assignments for Time, Newsweek, Drew Pearson, Milwaukee Journal, Arizona Republic and Portland Oregonian and has been a reporter and columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle.

Son of the late Arthur B. Kinsolving, Bishop of Arizona, Rev. Kinsolving had two years of experience in advertising and public relations and saw service with the United States Army prior to entering the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, from which he graduated in 1955.

Tickets to the lecture, at $1.50, will be available at the door.

'Antigone' is postponed; one-act plays planned

The Carmel High School production of "Antigone", originally scheduled for this weekend, has been indefinitely postponed.

Diana Hardy, director, in making the announcement, said, "However we hope that the public will enjoy a festival of one-act plays to be presented early in February. A variety of comedy, drama, the familiar and the obscure, will be the content of two evening's entertainment."

George Duke Classic Jazz Trio to perform Saturday

The George Duke Classic Jazz Trio, a group which produces what one critic has described as "a spendid and sometimes abstract sound" will appear in concert Saturday, at the Monterey Peninsula College.

The trio, whose 22-year-old pianist is its "core and guiding light," will perform at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall. Tickets, at $1 for general admission, 75 cents for students, are available at the college community services office or may be purchased at the door.

Fashion-Fabric Show to be held this week

"Fabric News and Fashion Views" for the spring will be presented by the San Carlos Parents Club of San Carlos School, Monterey, this week.

The fashion-fabric show will be held at Holman's Department Store in Pacific Grove at 7 o'clock on Thursday and Friday evenings and at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Complimentary tickets are available from club members or at Holman's. There will be door prizes and a courtesy coffee bar.

Time drawing near for Crosby Clambake

That highlight of the winter season on the Monterey Peninsula -- the Bing Crosby Clambake -- is drawing nigh.

Celebrities galore will be on hand for the gala four-day event, which gets underway Thursday of next week.

Play will rotate for the 336 expected golfers each day of the tournament over Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Spyglass Hill courses, with the final day of play on Pebble Beach.

Joining Bing Crosby on the links will be such popular figures as Glen Campbell, Mike Douglas, Pee Wee Reese, Sean Connery, Dean Martin, Phil Harris, Andy Williams, John Brody, Hank Ketcham, Charles Schulz, Frankie Avalon and Bob Newhart.

Half of the field will be pros, the other half amateurs.

Hike to Ormsbee Fire Lookout is slated Saturday

An interesting hike to the Sid Ormsebee Fire Lookout above Carmel Valley is slated for Saturday by members of the Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club.

Two Carmel Valleyites, Doyt Early and Jim Ziegler, will lead the hikers up the steep slope.

Members will meet at 9 o'clock at the west end of Garzas Road, bringing their own lunch and water.

The weather is expected to be clear, which will enable the hikers to see not only the entire valley, but also Monterey Bay, Mt. Hamilton, Fremont and Toro Peaks, Chews Ridge and Mt. Carmel.

The approach to the lookout from Garzas Canyon involves a climb of over 2,000 feet, some of it over rather steep ascents. But the views on the way up and at the summit are some of the most spectacular to be found in the Monterey Peninsula area.

Language Arts is Tularcitos Project

Language arts is a new creative venture beginning at Tularcitos School in the third grade.

Mrs. Richard Gaymon, a third grade parent, is directing this new project.

Small groups of six will participate in recording stories on tape that they create. Eventually six stories will evolve and the taping will allow for easier changes before the final story is written, according to Mrs. Gaymon.

MPC Brass Ensemble to give concert Friday

The Monterey Peninsula College Brass Ensemble, conducted by music instructor Henry Smith, will appear in concert Friday at 7 p.m. at the Carmelite Monastery on Highway 1 below Carmel.

The concert, originally scheduled for Sunday afternoon, January 19, is open to the public without charge.

The program will include baroque and renaissance music especially written for brass ensembles and designed by the composers to be played in churches with a particular echo quality.

The monastery, according to Smith, is "one of the few modern buildings which come close to having the 'reverberation time' of the old churches."

Officials concerned about many accidents on curve on C.V. Road

Climaxed by a double fatality last Dec. 22, eight different major auto accidents have occured in the last three years on the Carmel Valley Road curve several hundred feet west of its intersection with Country Club Drive.

This was reported this week by the County Road Dept. on what's locally known at "Porter's Curve."

(The Outlook shares the Porter family's prejudice for being tagged without cause with its name for the curve, and suggests it be tabbed simply "The Curve -- on Carmel Valley Road.")

Both County Road Dept. and California Highway Patrol spokesmen emphasized to The Outlook that the curve is well and clearly marked with warnings.

Warning signs say "Curve" and "35 MPH" and reflective markers have recently been added to emphasize the curve at night.

EXCESSIVE SPEED

The officials pointed out that most cars in the accidents were exceeding the 35 MPH speed limit and that indications were that more than half the drivers had been drinking.

Half the accidents produced injuries, including the two deaths, according to the Road Dept's. statistics.

Most of the accidents occurred at night.

The Dec. 22 double fatality, which injured a third person, a passenger, was the result of excessive speed, the Road Dept. reported, from 50 to 60 MPH.

Speed, also estimated at between 50 and 60 MPH, resulted in a two-car crash Nov. 30, with fortunately no injuries, the report said.

Two were injured in a one-car accident last Feb. 8, when the report estimated speed between 30 and 40 MPH.

MOTOR CYCLE

The year 1966 accounted for four accidents:

In January one was injured in a single-car accident, with speed estimated in the report between 40 and 50 MPH.

There were no injuries in a lone-car accident March 18, 1966, when the car's estimated speed was 30 to 40 MPH.

A two-car crash with no injuries occurred Nov. 16, when one car, going an estimated 40-50 MPH, crossed the center line and collided with another going 20-30 MPH, the report indicated.

With speed estimated between 20-30 MPH, a one-car accident Nov. 24, 1966, caused no injury.

St. Dunstan's to become parish

Word has been received that St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church will become a Parish.

The new status will be a reality February 2, when the Diocese convenes in San Francisco.

Requirements for the change have been met and the church will graduate from a Mission to a self-supporting Parish according to Rev. James W. Brock. He will now be known as rector instead of vicar.

The church in Carmel Valley had its beginning in 1955 when parishioners met at the Community Center. A year later 3 acres were purchased near Farm Center.

An educational wing and church were designed by architect Mel Blevins and construction began four years ago. A year later it was necessary to make a church school addition.

Since that time a vicarage on the church property has been completed and an addition to the existing kitchen made.

Special Vocational Training Classes for 28 Carmel High students to start Feb. 1

Signups are now under way at Carmel High School for students who want to participate in a new Peninsula-wide vocational training program starting Feb. 1, Principal Arthur Gumbrell said this week.

Carmel High has been allocated spots for 28 students, who would study Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to noon. About 100 Carmel High students indicated interest in a preliminary survey. Priority will go to seniors.

The program, limited to juniors and seniors, will be sponsored by the Peninsula Region Occupational Planning group, which involves its four school districts: Carmel, Monterey, Pacific Grove and Monterey Peninsula College.

Operating agent for the new program will be the Monterey Unified School District.

The program will offer these five subjects:

Nurses aide and orderly training.

Automotive maintenance specialist.

Retail selling.

Construction technology.

Light vehicle equipment operation.

BUS TRANSPORTATION

Transportation, including from Carmel Valley, will be provided by bus free. Students completing a course will earn five units of elective credit toward graduation, plus job opportunities during the coming summer.

Estimated cost of the entire program for all the school districts is $14,900. Of this $11,000 is available from a special tax levied via the county school district office and $3,900 is to come from A.D.A. income from the four districts.

"The best facilities, laboratories and shops on the Peninsula will be used," Gumbrell said. "Excellent teachers with long and successful experience in each field have been hired. Business people in the area are donating their time and facilities to make the program successful."

WHY SATURDAY

Saturday was chosen, he explained, because good vocational teachers and craftsmen are more readily available to teach and assist with classes than on weekdays.

Many facilities and businesses are also available for field trips and on-the-job training on Saturdays, a time which could also permit overlap for special field trips or observation.

Saturdays will further permit use of the best facilities, labs and shops from throughout the four high schools.

Following are descriptions of the five courses:

Nurse's Aide and Orderly Training - This is a basic job entry skill nurse's aide and orderly training. This vocational course will include patient care, knowledge of the body systems, knowledge of hospital and home operational procedures, basic nursing procedures and practices.

Introduction to Nursing for 30 hours will be at Monterey High and Care of Patients for 30 hours at MHS & Hospital.

Automotive Maintenance Specialist - two 10-week vocational courses will cover the principle and method of electronically tuning an automobile, including installing and servicing smog equipment of engines and alignment and adjusting the brakes and front end. Auto Shop I would be helpful.

Howard Johnson will be instructor at Monterey High and garage.

Retail Sales - The course is directed at basic techniques, job entry skills and knowledge in retail selling. Included will be sales techniques, displays, employment procedures, personalities and customer relations, basic retail management and credit-financing policies and related occupational information.

General mathematics and ability to read are important.

Carmel School District Election to be held Apr. 15

Two positions on the Carmel Unified School District board of trustees will be filled at an election on April 15.

The terms of Rev. James Brock of Carmel Valley and Dr. Robert E. Newton of Carmel expire this year.

Neither has indicated whether he will be a candidate for re-election.

Candidacy filing is currently open and will remain open until Feb. 20. Terms are for 4 years.

Nomination papers may be obtained from the Monterey County Office of Education, 132 W. Market St., Salinas.

Sole qualification for candidates is that the candidate be a registered voter of the school district whose board he is running for. There is no filing fee unless the candidate wishes to file a statement of qualifications to be mailed with sample ballots. In that case, cost of printing and mailing is pro-rated among the candidates in each district.

At its meeting last week, the Carmel school board approved nine polling places for the election.

They are as follows:

Del Monte Lodge, Carmel Woods School, Carmel River School, Carmel Highlands Fire Station, Carmel High School, Carmelo School, Tularcitos School, Big Sur Grange Hall and Sunset Auditorium.

FINALS IN 2 WEEKS

Advance warning to Carmel High School students!

Final exams to end the first semester will be Jan. 29,30 and 31.

No rest -- the second semester gets under way the following Monday.

Fifth grade housing problem aired at School Board meeting

Temporary fifth grade housing problems was one of the chief topics discussed at the Carmel Board of Education last week as parents expressed opinions for a solution.

The school board is considering a temporary shift of fifth grade students from Middle School back to elementary schools which do have the space to handle them.

Middle School, housing grades five through eight, has ever-reached its official capacity and is expected to have a higher enrollment next fall.

Although there are no immediate solutions, there are several long range plans under study by the board.

One is enlarging the present Middle School for a capacity enrollment of 1,500 and converting it to a high school. Grades five through eight would be moved to the existing high school on Highway 1.

The high school is considered to have reached its capacity with an enrollment of 1,025 students.

Another proposal includes the construction of a second Middle School on property owned by the district on Scarlett Road.

The board has not agreed on a solution as yet. Supt. Harris A. Taylor told the board that the Middle School might get through another year with minor adjustments without the necessity of altering its program.

MOVE FAVORED

Sixteen parents gave their views with the majority appearing to favor the instruction of fifth graders at the elementary schools.

Taylor felt that barring physical education and shop facilities an equally good job of education can be done in either setting. He said the administration, itself, is divided on the fifth grade question which does not give much assistance to the governing board.

He felt that the Middle School system of specialized teachers and 40-minute class blocks contained both strengths and weaknesses.

Principal of the Middle School Orville Rogers told the board, "Administratively, it would be easier not to have the fifth graders there. But educationally the fifth graders have benefited most from the program."

Other business included approval of an application for $59,450 in federal education funds to set up a library program at Middle School, and a transfer of $16,000 to the capital outlay account to enable the district to take advantage of a $43,000 National Defense Education Act grant, originally expected to be only $26,000.

through interviews with members of pioneer families, written historical articles about Monterey County that have preserved for posterity, priceless and rapidly disappearing information. He can cover a straight news story or write an editorial with equal skill.

And finally, his humorous articles on the sun drenched Upper Carmel Valley have firmly engraved on the public mind the close association of Carmel Valley and sunshine.

MARJORIE McKIERNON

Marjorie McKiernon deserves recognition for a long and continuous career of volunteer service to our community.

This fine lady has been serving the Carmel Valley Community Chapel as a director for 4 years and as President of the Chapel Guild for 6 years. She organized and manages the Church's very successful Thrift Shop.

Ten years ago the Red Cross Blood Bank was started in Carmel Valley and for the past eight years she has been chairman in charge of recruiting of all blood donors.

These are the unspectacular jobs that have to be done year after year and which require a large amount of self sacrifice and devotion to duty.

They are typical of the many good deeds she has done and the work she is still doing for her community.

Carmel High racks up 2 more victories

The Carmel High School Padre Basketball Team downed San Lorenzo Valley, 74-56, and King City, 59-50 Friday and Saturday nights to hold on to first place in the Mission Trail Athletic League.

Next home game is Friday evening with Gonzales, and the next Padre live broadcast (KRSA-FM, 100.7 Mc) is next Saturday night when Carmel goes to Cabrillo College to play Holy Cross.

The Carmel Varsity was paced by Bruce Winkler's 25 points and 19 rebounds, Chris Laiolo's 13, and Ross Smith, before fouling out in the fourth quarter, registered 10 points against King City.

Friday night in the Padre's defeat of SLV, Laiolo and Mark Spindler each hit for 16 while Winkler tapered off from his usual point productivity with 19.

Carmel's Junior Varsity won on Friday night also, downing SLV, 79-43, and lost Saturday evening in a real thriller to KC, 52-50, in the closing moments. Jeff Canepa registered 19.

Carmel's Freshmen team lost both nights, 35-48 to SLV and 33-61 to KC.

IT'S LATER THAN WE THOUGHT:
ALMOST TIME FOR THE 'CROSBY' AGAIN!

And the "Crosby" means one of the best times of the year for selling weekenders and part-time homes! Unfortunately, our supply of available properties which fit these requirements is very low right now, particularly in Carmel proper. Does your house have one or two bedrooms? Is it within walking distance of Carmel and the beach? Will it fall into the price range of $25,000 to $45,000? Is your landscaping easy to maintain? Do you want to sell? If so, this may be your last really good opportunity until Easter Vacation. Why don't you give us a ring? No obligation to discuss the idea.

Heart Fund Party

HORS D'OEUVRES' ARTISTS, attention! Bud Allen of La Playa Hotel, chairman of the coming Heart Fund party-hors d'oeuvres contest, and Paul Reed of Highland Inn, co-chairman, invite food-adventurers to participate. Setting the theme, "Spend a Night in Vienna Where Hearts are Gay," for the gala event, scheduled Sunday Feb. 9 at Del Monte Hyatt House, are, from left, Berry Carr of Lobos Lodge, Roma Philbrook of Asilomar and Bill Coleman of Del Monte Lodge, president of the sponsoring Monterey Penn. Hotel Association. Proceeds benefit the Heart Association.

Residents of Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz counties may enter their favorite hors d'oeuvres. Entries are made in either amateur or professional classifications. Contact either Bud Allen or Paul Reed for contest entry blanks. Judges are to be selected, with Virginia Stanton heading that committee.

The public is invited. Donations are $10.00 per person to attend and tickets may be obtained from any hotel on the Monterey Peninsula or the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Trek in mountains of Nepal features Ventana meeting

Bruce Meyer, M.D. and Ward Allison will take Ventana Chapter members on a vicarious 300-mile trek through the mountains of Nepal at the chapter's annual dinner and installation of officers at Asilomar on Thursday, Jan. 30.

Former chapter chairman and mountaineering section chairman, respectively, the two will show slides and tell about their experiences last November on a five-week hiking trip led by Will Siri, former Sierra Club President and Deputy leader of the 1963 Everest Expedition.

With most of their gear carried by porters, the 15-member group averaged about 10 miles of hiking each day through the spectacular, precipitous, and colorful high country of Nepal, recording a total of more than 50,000 feet of vertical elevation gain during the trip.

One of the high points of the trip was the placing of the flag of the Los Padres Hiking Club on a 17,000-foot snow peak dubbed "Rum Doodle" after the hilarious British climbing satire "The Ascent of Rum Doodle", which Ward Allison made required reading for members of the expedition.

Deadline for reservations is Jan. 28. Cost of the dinner will be $3.75 per person, all inclusive. In charge of reservations for the event are Marian Clemens, 624-4922, and Barbara Kramer, 624-4287.

Cookery Corner

Featuring the favorite recipes of local cooks.

ESTELLE DOUGLAS combines her role of housewife and mother-of-four with maning the office of the Douglas Disposal Co. for husband, Warren.

Her office is a bright and airy place with a great view of the Valley and surrounding hills, an exhibit of school art on one wall and a big pot of coffee keeping hot for droppers-in. Under the coffee table is a tall stack of old magazines she won't throw away till she has time to check through them for recipes and household ideas.

Between answering the phone and keeping the company records straight, Estelle takes time for her corresponding secretary work for the CV Women's Club. Another outside activity is singing with the Peninsula Choral Society. Both Douglases have been active sponsors of Ikthys, the youth group of the Monterey Peninsula Community Church and are ardent Carmel High sports fans.

Estelle looked up some quick and easy recipes for us, including Popover Pie, a hearty main dish ("more like Yorkshire pudding with the meat mixed in than anything else"), a make-ahead sherbet ("low on calories but high on flavor") and breakfast muffins the kids love hot from the oven ("a lot easier to fix and serve than waffles and just as popular").

BEEF - POPOVER PIE

Fry until crumbly in a large, deep skillet 1 to 2 pounds of ground beef (can be still frozen).....add 1 or 2 chopped onions and fry til limp. Drain off fat and put into a 400° oven. In a bowl mix 1-1/2 cups flour with 1-1/2 cups milk. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, and with a wire whisk beat in 3 eggs.....one at a time. Pour all at once in skillet in oven and bake about 25 minutes. Cut in pie wedges and serve immediately.

BUTTERMILK SHERBET

1 quart of buttermilk
1 14oz. can crushed pineapple
1 cup sugar

Mix above and freeze until mushy.

Then fold in 2 egg whites that have been beaten stiff with a pinch of salt.

BUTTERMILK MUFFINS

Sift together in mixing bowl:
2 cups sifted flour
1/4 cup sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt

Cut in:
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine

Blend in quickly not beating out the lumps:
1 egg
1 cup buttermilk

Fill 1 dozen well-greased muffin cups. Bake about 25 minutes at 400°.

Number of families in Carmel Valley increases to 1,313

Families served by the Carmel Valley post office increased last year from 1,264 to 1,313, Postmaster Sam Brandt announced this week.

Based on the post office's official base figure of three and a half persons per family, the increase of 49 families gives Upper Carmel Valley, which the local post office serves, an unofficial population figure of 4,595.

The local post office covers from Scarlet Rd. to Jamesburg.

Revenues increased during fiscal 1967, Brandt said, from $59,585.07 to $65,436.30 for fiscal 1968.

Brandt pointed out that the increase is slightly misleading because of a postal-rate increase, but that a proportionate increase is indicated by the post office's measure of "revenue units," which increased from 944 to 948 last year over the previous year.

Soldiers answer Christmas Cards

Answers to Christmas cards are being received by Tularcitos students from soldiers in the field and evacuation hospitals of Viet Nam.

Greeting cards were written by the students and mailed for them by the Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club. The missives were directed to the hospitals and mailed just before the holidays.

P. G. & E. to begin work on Rancho Road

With only a few contract signatures to go, the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. will soon begin work on gas lines on Rancho Road and its two branch roads, White Oak Way and Live Oak Lane, according to Clifford Johansen, company representative.

Scheduled to begin in the near future is Boronda and Garzas Roads. Work has been completed on Laurel Drive and Country Club Drive with only a few individual connections to be made.

KAMINSKE TO HEAD CVPOA

Roy Kaminske was nominated as president of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association at a meeting last week of the Nominating Committee.

He will be among the slate of new officers and directors to be presented at the annual election meeting Jan. 23 at 8 p.m. at the CV Community Center.

Supervisor Willard Branson, just elected chairman of the county board, will be guest speaker.

Additional nominations may be made from the floor at the Jan. 23 meeting, retiring Pres. Emil Hansen pointed out.

Other officer-nominees include Paul Cooper, vice president; James Miller, secretary, and Stanley Johnson, treasurer. Kaminske, president-elect, was on the board two years ago; Miller was secretary two years ago and Johnson is re-nominated for another consecutive year as treasurer.

Nine directors, selected to represent the entire Valley, are John Dowdakin, Country Club Drive; Egon Durr, Rancho Rio Vista; George Fairbanks, Carmel Knolls; Edwin B. Lee, Farm Center; George Lockwood, Toyon Way; Mrs. Doris Mark, Robles Del Rio; E.L. Rich, Hacienda Carmel; John Taylor, Panetta Road, and Jack Swanson, Cachagua.

Four seats to be filled on county education board

Four seats on the Monterey County Board of Education will be up for grabs in the April 15 biennial school board election.

The four positions open represent a number of geographic areas in Monterey County.

Among Board members holding terms which expire in 1969 are John Shephard, Area No.1, which includes the Carmel, Pacific Grove and Monterey Unified School Districts and the Pacific School District.

Nomination filing is currently open, with Thursday, Feb. 20, the last day to file declarations of candidacy.

Candidates for the Board must be registered voters of the area they seek to represent. There is no filing fee unless the candidate wishes to file a statement of qualifications to be mailed with sample ballots.

To date incumbents have not indicated whether or not they will seek re-election.

Nomination papers may be obtained at the Monterey County Office of Education, 132 W. Market Street, Salinas.

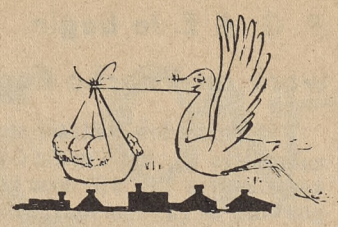
Mrs. Stanton named trustee

Named as a new trustee of Community Hospital is Mrs. Robert Stanton of Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Stanton is the first "Pink Lady" selected for this position. She was one of the early volunteers of the Auxiliary of Community Hospital and has volunteered over 3,000 hours to the hospital.

As party editor for a national magazine, Mrs. Stanton also finds time to write recipe booklets and articles for national organizations. She has also acted as consultant for several well-known firms.

Early last year she was appointed to the California Arts Commission to fulfill the unexpired term of Mrs. Ronald Reagan.



BIRTHS

The population of Carmel Valley was increased by two with the birth of two infants at the Community Hospital January 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Hale of Route 2, Box 915, Carmel are the parents of a daughter, Sunset.

A son, David Lane was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Merrison, Jr., of Route 2, Box 955, Carmel.

Mrs. Haber new president of Pink Ladies

Mrs. Barbara Haber of Carmel Valley was installed as president of the Auxiliary of Community Hospital at the annual meeting January 6 at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

As an active member of the community, Mrs. Haber has served with the Girl Scouts and Community Youth Center of Carmel Valley. She has also participated in Red Cross and Community Chest activities.

Boy Scouts tour Naval Facility

Operation of naval aircraft and airfields were seen by the local Boy Scout troop when they toured the U.S. Naval Air Facility in Monterey.

The group, sponsored by Kiwanis, was conducted by Scoutmaster Ted Seashore and Capt. George M. Clifford, Carmel Valley Kiwanis president. Manny Mancebo, Jr., is troop leader.

Among several points of interest visited were a Grummann anti-submarine plane, the weather central, a helicopter, and the ground control system.

Kiwanis Club pledges aid to youth groups

Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club's new president, George Clifford, outlined at Tuesday's luncheon meeting his platform for an active program this year.

Youth leadership is high on the list, said Clifford, emphasizing that the club will continue sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 127, and offer assistance to the Community Youth Center and church youth groups.

Clifford, a retired Navy captain and aviator, has been head of the Community Center.

He said that this year's Kiwanis International theme, "Stand Up for Freedom," combined with the theme for 1968, "Get Personally Involved," together present a challenge to everyone.

Clifford said he favors more round table discussions with youth and adults at the Youth Center. The Highway Patrol and Sheriff's Dept. will be asked to participate in a discussion on law and order, he added.

Kiwanis would like to work with the CV Property Owners Association, Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Property Owners Association on such programs as conservation of the air, land and water, the new president said.

Installation dinner for Kiwanis Lt. Gov. Jess Gressett is scheduled Jan. 25 at the Mark Thomas Inn.

Carmel Valley publicized in 2 magazines

The beauty of Carmel Valley has been publicized in two California Magazines this month.

'San Francisco', a magazine published in that city, has written a history of the valley dating back to land grants in the 1800's. It depicts the 1920's as a "rugged place to live with rattlesnakes, mountain lions and moonshiners frequenting the hills".

It traces the development of the valley from the laying out of the contoured Robles Del Rio Subdivision by Frank Porter to the recent opening of Bernadelli Square in the heart of the Village.

California Home depicts the valley from an architectural viewpoint and runs a full page picture of the valley overlooking the condominiums of the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.

Scholarship Fund Honoring Donald Craig at $1,300

More than $1,300 has been donated in memory of the late Donald Craig, beloved Carmel High School teacher and civic leader, to the Carmel Scholarship Fund within the past three months.

This was announced this week by John Graham, head Carmel High counselor and chairman of the Scholarship Fund.

The gifts have come in donations of from $1.00 to $300 over the past three months, since the suggestion by Mrs. Donald Craig that a scholarship memorial would have been appreciated most by her late husband.

He joined the faculty in 1940, the year the present high school originally opened, and continued active, chiefly as a Spanish teacher, until last April when he became ill. He was also a past mayor of Carmel.

MORE NEEDED

Urging further donations to the Don Craig Memorial Scholarship Fund, which is serving as steward for the funds honoring Craig, urgently needs replenishing.

The the annual scholarship carnival was given up several years ago, the Carmel Scholarship Fund has been losing ground financially, he said. The carnival, although it raised from $4,000 to $5,000 annually got too big and unwieldly, he added.

The Carmel High Parents Club is sponsoring a movie series this year in an effort to assist the Scholarship Fund.

The Carmel Scholarship Fund is administered by a committee of five teachers, five students and two parents. It not only allocates money from the Fund, but screens applicants for other scholarships offered, such as from civic clubs and lodges.

Monterey County launches contest to find 'emblem'

The Monterey County Board of Supervisors has determined that an emblem should be developed which can be used by the County, County Departments, and other agencies having official connection with the County.

To accomplish this, the Board has authorized an Emblem Design Contest as follows:

The contest is being conducted to secure ideas for the emblem and not necessarily for the final design. All entries will become the property of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, and modifications to each design entry are left to the discretion of the Board.

Any resident of Monterey County may enter.

Entries are to be:

Submitted on 8-1/2 by 11 inches white stock (i.e., illustration board, poster board, or heavy drawing paper.)

Circular in design, 8 inches in diameter.

Black and white, with a second copy in color if desired by the designer. (Degree of detail should be based on the fact that the emblem will be reduced to decal or letterhead size.)

The words "Monterey County, California" and the date "1850" shall appear on the emblem.

Designer is to place his name and address on the back of the entry emblem.

The contest ends at noon, February 24, and entries are to be submitted to E.W. DeMars at the Planning Department, Monterey County Courthouse, Salinas, California.

Judging:

Final selections will be determined by a five-man committee appointed by the Board of Supervisors. There will be one judge from each supervisorial district.

There will be no monetary prizes, but appropriate recognition will be awarded to the winner or winners of the contest.

'Divorce' to be analyzed in series of public meetings

An increasing number of people are facing divorce.

"Focus on Divorce" SOS PROGRAM was initially conducted to answer questions as in any community, there are people who need answers to questions -- married couples who wish to get a better insight and gain a more objective understanding of the causes of marital conflicts and those who are approaching or undergoing divorce.

The SOS PROGRAM is planned to help participants realize that others have gone through the experience of divorce, survived, and often been better off through personal growth and maturity.

This series of lectures and professionally-led discussion groups is offered to all persons.

The program is presented by the Monterey Chapter of PWP (Parents Without Partners). The program is supported by voluntary contribution. PWP is the only nationally organized group of divorced, separated or widowed people.

A panel of five speakers will be featured in the first program to be held tonight. The subject will be "THE SINGLE PARENT".

Participants will be Mrs. Lorraine Luker, Executive Director of Family Service Agency of the Monterey Peninsula; Mrs. Joan Spear, Social Worker with Family Service Agency; Rev. George E. Ridgway, Vicar of St. James Episcopal Church; Saul Greenberg, M.D., Psychiatrist and Michael M. Meheen, Attorney. The panel will discuss dating, children, financial change, etc.

The SOS PROGRAM lecture series will be held weekly for five weeks at the Pacific Grove Community Center, 515 Junipero Avenue, Pacific Grove.

Branson pledges an economical county government

Willard T. Branson of Carmel Valley pledged an unceasing effort to hold taxes down when he assumed the chairmanship of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors last week.

He said that the board is charged with the responsibility of maintaining an economical county government.

"By serving the needs of the citizens, not their wants, we can do it," he added.

We must also turn back the forces of pollution -- of the air, the water and the land - he told his fellow board members.

"We must plan and control the best utilization of our resources, and at the same time provide for orderly development of agriculture, tourism and business," Branson said in accepting the chairmanship.

Other board members noted that the county tax rate of $2.03, 12th lowest in the state, would be held in line if at all possible.

Charles Corbin, retired teacher, had special 'bonus' in students

"After forty years as a teacher I have many stories reminiscent of faculty and students," says Charles E. Corbin of Carmel Valley Manor.

"Sometimes I find that my stories and theirs do not coincide," he confesses and then proceeds to tell his version in Carmel Valley Echoes, the Manor's monthly paper.

After reading them it seems clear that the country needs more creative teachers of Mr. Corbin's caliber. He says of his relationships with students, "I always figured they were a bonus and this did not stop after retirement."

Here are some excerpts from his article:

After-math Recollections
by Charles E. Corbin

After country school experience in Illinois and four years at Huron College, Huron, S.D., I came straight to California in 1910 and have been here ever since. I joined the faculty at the University of San Jose, which was started in Santa Clara in 1851. Later, when it became the College of the Pacific, Stanford University took over the Law School and the University of California took the Medical School. In 1924, I helped the College move to Stockton.

In 1916 I became Registrar in addition to teaching Mathematics. In those days there was no counseling and that naturally fell in line with my duties as Registrar and soon became one of the things I enjoyed.

One time a nursing student from the U.C. School of Nursing came to me and said she had her graduation announcements all ready to mail and had just been told she could not get her degree because they discovered she had never had plane geometry and could I help her. I told her if she would stick with me for three weeks and work as hard as she could and do just what I told her, I would give her a "C". I picked out things she would have to know in her professional work and drilled her on them and I gave her a "C", and I did the same thing for other girls who were not strong in math, and I never went to jail for it!

I was the only faculty member who had access to the vault. One of my co-workers told me he had a gallon of grain alcohol for use in the lab but the amount seemed to be diminishing, and asked if he could keep it in the vault. There it continued to diminish. I had reason to suspect a certain student, so I asked him if he had been taking it. He said, "yes". I said "why?" and he said "Well, every time I go to a party I feel dull and awkward, but if I take a snort before I go to a party, I'm the life of the party."

I never had any money to give the students, but some times I could help them in other ways. One boy came to my office to register and said he would like to know what his course was going to be because he had to get a job to pay expenses. I said to him, "You get your job first and then we'll arrange a course around it."

In 1914 my salary was $1200 a year. Full professors were getting $1400, and the president was getting $1800. During the depression a professor's $3600 salary went down to $2400.

When I retired the faculty gave a dinner and presented me with a bag containing $130 and I made a speech, in which I said "Pacific did something for me that I have never forgotten. In my 31 years here it taught me to live on nothing." A month or two later I went back for another dinner and I made another speech. I told them how I had spent the $130. "I bought bricks for a low wall around my lot, and I named a brick for each of you. Some of them were cracked. Some of them were half baked."

Pacific Gas and Electric Company today pledged an all-out effort to eliminate a yellow-brown plume which occasionally develops downwind from its steam electric generating plant at Moss Landing.

Frederick W. Mielke, Jr., vice president and assistant to the chairman of the board of PG&E, declared that "the matter of clean air in Monterey and Santa Cruz counties is a subject of intense concern not only to the citizens of these two counties, as it legitimately should be, but also to PG&E."

"PG&E is committed to finding a way to eliminate the yellow-brown haze that is being caused unexpectedly by operation of the two new units at its Moss Landing Plant. We have good reason to believe that the problem can be solved. We are giving this matter attention at the highest levels in our company, and we have retained the foremost experts we can find to assist us in working out the problem," Mielke declared.

Mielke's pledge came at a press conference at the plant at which two PG&E engineers and four nationally recognized consultants on meteorology, environmental control and boiler technology outlined steps already taken, or planned, in order to eliminate the nitrogen dioxide plume.

He explained that the visible plume does not come from anything in the natural gas, the fuel used when the plume is seen downwind from the plant.

"Until our experience here, use of natural gas as a fuel has been considered an answer to air pollution and not a cause of it. Neither PG&E, nor any other utility we know of, had ever experienced this kind of trouble when burning natural gas," he said.

"We do not intend," Mielke said, "to design or operate our plants in any way that will cause air pollution problems. Throughout our system we are working closely with local and state authorities to see that we do not cause any such problems."

Paul Matthew, manager of the company's steam generation department, disclosed that numerous tests have been conducted since the addition of the two 750,000 kilowatt units. "We have taken advantage of every opportunity to adjust controls for great efficiency and to determine the extent of the formation of nitric oxide when burning natural gas fuel," he said.

The nitric oxide formation at the two units has recently been reduced by one-third by changing the air mix during combustion. This and other steps, such as increasing flue gas recirculation, adjusting air flow through the burners and injecting steam in the burners, show promise of further reductions. Tests must be continued, Matthew said, in order to reach the most effective results.
